GUIDANCE STAFF

Seated: Mrs. Sylvia Cohn, Mr. Robert Brown, Mrs. Jennie Janulin, Miss Mary Rybkiewicz, Miss Lenore Adubato. Standing: Mr. Benjamin Katz, Mr. Salvatore Grimaldi, Mr. Michael Cuzzo, Mr. David Feldman. Miss Adubato is the school Counselor, Miss Rybkiewicz (assisted by Mrs. Cohn) is Senior Adviser, while Mr. Cuzzo is in charge of efforts regarding drop-outs.

Guidance

Through proper guidance and counseling it is the desire of the Guidance Department to help the pupil find greater happiness in the knowledge that he can really understand himself. When he realizes this, the pupil can more readily solve the problems he may encounter as he goes on along the road of life. Thus, he can form a truer self-image and become more content.

Business Department

The Business Department of Central High School throughout the years has earned the respect of the business community for the preparation of its graduates for positions in the areas of secretarial work, bookkeeping, and accounting and other office occupations. The Business Department also contributes to the education of all Central High School students by making available many subjects that will enrich the personal and economic background of every student.

The Business Education program at Central High School is well-known for the comprehensiveness of its secretarial, bookkeeping, and clerical patterns of study and has much to offer students who are preparing for a full life in our community.

Pay attention—some day it will save a few dollars on income tax.

English Department

Mr. DeLisi, Chairman of Central High School's English Department, says he believes, "Our American civilization today depends, more so than ever in the past, upon the social goals of an educated intelligence and a sense of responsibility on the part of all our citizens. An ever-widening range of problems has presented to us a set of imperatives to education that must become absolute if our western way of life is to endure. English teachers everywhere have therefore dedicated themselves to help develop a general citizenry and a labor force of a level of intellectual development that will fill the needs of our present day civilization."

The English Department meets each pupil in every year of his High School life. It also offers the student an opportunity of knowledge, pleasure, and self-expression in other ways than classroom activity. At this writing, the department is responsible for the production of assembly programs; bringing out a school paper, "The Tangeut"; offering membership in a Future Teachers' Group, in a Dramatic Club; and in the publication of a yearbok.

Mathematics Department

Mr. Schlosser reports, "We are in the midst of adjusting to new courses of study, which are even now under consideration in committees, on a city-wide basis. At the present time, courses include general mathematics, algebra, plane and solid geometry.

These new programs, however, will better prepare Central pupils for opportunities that await them after graduation and help to guarantee them greater success and further advancement in a world of rapidly increasing chances."

Front row: Mr. George Robbins, Mr. Joseph Geller. Rear: Mr. John Jennings, Mr. Jerome Schlosser, Chairman, Mr. Benjamin Lee. In circle: Mr. Cleveland Pinckney.

Modern Language Department

Central offers its high school students the opportunity to learn foreign languages.

Knowing a foreign language can make our lives fuller and happier. The world's size has not changed; yet, today conditions bring us into daily contact with so many people from all parts of the world. It is, therefore, totally inadequate to know only one's native language. In Mr. Milone's words, "Of great importance is foreign language study; it is most necessary and invaluable if we are to be able to communicate intelligently, to be understood and to understand each other's cultural heritage, customs and ways of life.

Knowledge of languages may be the future keys to a world at peace."

"I did not say a foreign language was easy".

Physical Education Department

"Our main idea is to teach the pupil to make maximum use of knowledge, attitudes, skills and habits, so that he may be able to act in situations that are physically wholesome, mentally stimulating and satisfying, socially sound, and morally proper. We believe in, 'A sound mind in a sound body'. Our thought is a lifetime of happiness through learning physical and mental health. New Jersey law requires each pupil to take and pass the course each year he is in school. Aside from the four years of physical education (freshmen to seniors) the Department gives: I. Personal Health, II. First Aid, III. Driver Education, IV. Personal, Social Adjustment and Child Care. Some boys are able to go to College because of athletic ability."

Matthew Lombardi, Chairman

"Is your temperature normal?"

First row, left to right: Mrs. Rowena Warren, Miss Anna Schlegel, Mrs. Drusecilla Bond.
Second row: Mr. Joseph Williams, Mr. James Martin, Mr. Matthew Lombardi, Chairman, Mr. Robert Brown, Mr. Hilly Wisot.

Mr. Salkin showing some "rock sense".

Science Department

The study of science is a practical, profitable, and often fascinating expenditure of time, life's most precious commodity. This pursuit gives (to quote Mr. Paul Haesler, Chairman of the department) "Better understanding of your surroundings and more comprehension of animals and plants." Science gives knowledge to improve health and prolong life. The study of mechanics, light, electricity, and sound can be covered, as well as that of "space" and time. Fascinating can the crust of the earth become with its soil (rich or arid); its rivers and lakes, its fiery volcanoes and gorgeous waterfalls; and its wealth of vegetables and trees above, minerals and precious stones below the surface.

The science department has offered, in the past, both radio and navigation courses. Among its subjects this term are general science, biology, physics, and chemistry.

Social Studies Department

All students who expect to be graduated must, by state law successfully complete a two year course in United States history.

This course begins with our European backgrounds and ends with current American History. The faculty of the social studies department is concerned with the problems of understanding how democratic processes of government developed in this country and the political, cultural and social progress made by each succeeding American generation. Students who participate fully in our program learn not only the rights and privileges of citizenship, but the duties, responsibilities and obligations as well.

The social studies department also offers a year course in World History. This course serves to acquaint our students with the progress and contributions to world civilization of our fellow nations and also helps us to understand the role of our country in the stream of world history. Finally our department offers a course in the study of the problems of group living, political parties, and the structure of our local, state and national governments. This year's long course, the newest addition to our offerings, is called "Civics". We are also looking forward to the re-introduction of courses in International Relations and Economics.

Mapping our interest in the world.

Technical Department

The Industrial Arts or Technical Department, according to its chairman, Mr. Joseph Ram, offers,

"A program to train our young people in the knowledge, understanding and skills necessary for economic and social competence in our expanding and changing society—placing special emphasis upon training these young people to earn a livelihood in an industrial community."

The courses given include: Electricity, Machine Shop, Mechanical Drawing, and Sheet Metal.

Art Department

The goal of the Central High School Art Department is to help develop the innate capacities and talents of its students. Through experience with art forms and various art media, the student improves his visual perception and understanding.

The courses available at Central include: painting, graphics, architecture, fashion design, illustration, industrial design, technical art, advertising, and lettering—as well as art history. Mr. Stark says "The student of art gains confidence through accomplishment. His knowledge of plastic form in his environment is enlarged; and, in turn, he become a more knowing, happier personality.

Home Economics Department

Home economics serves a very practical purpose. The girls are offered an opportunity to learn both culinary and fashion skills. Sewing and cooking, designing and baking have a definite appeal to the female heart.

The better she looks, the happier she feels;

The better she cooks, the happier he feels.

Learn these arts to bring happiness to yourself and others.

Librarians

The library is one road to happiness through learning, the theme of the 1965 Central High School Yearbook. The calming atmosphere is soothing in itself. By reading the books, of which there are thousands, the students may gain pleasure, peace, and knowledge—three excellent contributions toward happiness.

Music Department

In speaking of opportunities, Mr. Eric Lundie remarked, "One of the subjects offered by the Music Department is Music Foundations. This is an orientation course which explores the field of music, especially the work done in Grades 1 through 8. It equips the student with knowledges, skills, and appreciation leading to a fuller musical life."

Objectives: 1. To discover talents and interests; 2. To encourage pupils to elect further music courses during the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth years; 3. To discover musically talented pupils and encourage their self-development, vocally and instrumentally.

- Content of course:
1. Songs, unison and part.
 2. Basic theory of music.
 3. Voice classification.
 4. Orchestral and band instruments.
 5. Composers, past and present.
 6. Performers, past and present.
 7. Program and absolute music.
 8. Introduction to forms in music.

The department is proud of its band, its Girls' Glee Club, its Choristers, Enterpean Club and Madrigal Singers—all of whom try to give happiness to themselves and others through the music they have learned.

Left to right: Mr. Eric Lundie, Mrs. Carol Bartlett, Mrs. Carletta Ryan, Mr. Salvatore Grimoldi.

Dr. Morris Bass
School Physician

Medical Department

Central High has three professional people to serve the needs of its pupils: Two doctors and a nurse. The nurse's office is open during the entire school day. Certain days are set aside for physical examinations. Doctor Bass comes for the boys and Doctor Schults for the girls. Among the many services rendered are: examination of teeth, checking of eyes; the patch and other tests; the administering of polio shots to those who did not have them in the summer months. A teacher may send a pupil who is ill to the nurse at any time, listing the reason. The teacher signs the slip. The nurse sees the student, marks the time of leaving the health office, and signs her name. A blue slip is used, headed "Teacher-Nurse Report for High School". Between classes or at his lunch period, a pupil may stop in the office on his own. The nurse is Evelyn Sambur, R.N.

Cutting

The Cutting Road lead to
Mr. Robert Hollander

Dear Graduates:

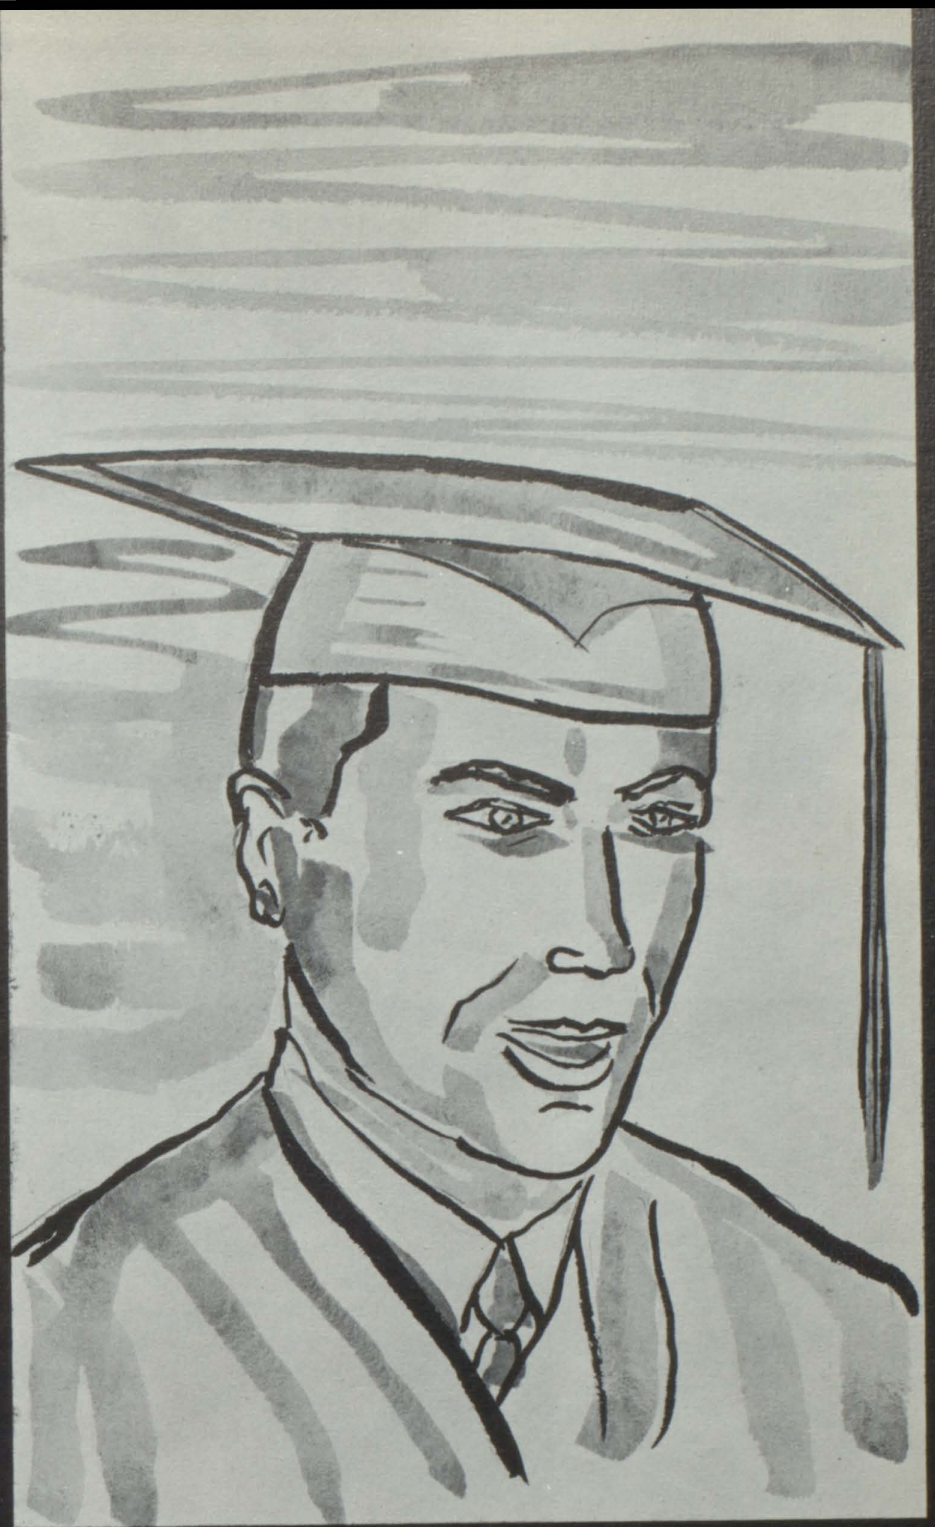

I had the opportunity of speaking to many of you "officially" during the past year. I hope that you will heed my words of advice. Your future employer will be keenly interested in your attendance record. He will have no sympathy for employees who leave their jobs early because they got sick, or had to do a family errand, or had to go home to change their pants, or had to find someone from whom to borrow money. He will be interested in knowing if you left your job before you were scheduled.

Check up slips, telephone calls and parent conferences were all done with one thought in mind: To make you a better person, a person better able to meet his adult responsibilities.

Ann Mitchell

Often happiness, as well as information, comes from learning. Teenage is the time for questioning, for curiosity. Knowledge, at this stage, can be very satisfying. A boy who solves a difficult mathematics problem feels proud of result; so does the one who fixes an electric switch. The girl who can type is glad she learned the use of a machine which enables her to present her work in a businesslike fashion. Glad, too, is she to have a skill to offer in the industrial world. The pupils who have learned to speak clearly, put on a panel discussion or a play, have fun at rehearsal and a feeling of warmth and achievement when the applause greets their efforts. High level of learning brings justified pride in seeing names on honor rolls. Learning words and music to a song has paid off in a public appearance; the painting of attractive pictures has been rewarded by an exhibit. Acquiring the art of playing an instrument well on the stage or on the field brings pleasure to the musician and to those who listen. Learning the rules of the game and the spirit of competition gives emotional satisfaction to both performer and spectator. From any facet of education (with its wide variety of curriculum and extra-curricular activity) can come happiness of a quiet, personal sort or of a big, shared type. This is the idea we have gained in the years here. This is the theme of our book: that we gain happiness through learning.

Class of

We were rather small four years ago when we came to the doors of Central; but they let us in, anyway. They knew we would grow. How some of us did! After getting lost a dozen times, we became settled eventually. We were here to learn and that's what most of us started to do. (A few set out for fun and managed to have it all these years.) Two of the language teachers we have had retired, Mrs. Litch and Mr. Sennerchio. We found assignments were longer and the work in general was a little harder; but, to our surprise, June came and one year was ended.

Sophomore year saw additional pupils enter the class ranks. Like us, they came from all sections of the city. It looked as if we would have a very large graduation class indeed. The new ones found the building large and rooms hard to find. Some of the class will leave without ever having been in either a basement or a tower room. Many have never seen rooms 16, 18, 515 nor 526. The upper classmen continued to offer us elevator tickets. Some of the class were active in athletic events. One boy made the top five on the basketball team. We started joining more clubs. Near the end of the term, some were accepted in foreign language societies.

By junior year, we found our place in Central. We participated in various assembly programs. Socially, too, we began to step out. Very successful was our Junior Dance Affair. This year, we went on a few field trips. We preferred these to the classroom. One of our better students in mathematics was the highest scorer in the city-wide test—of course, Tabitha Smith. Several were now making the honor rolls; others, like Kathy Jordon, were having both fun and high marks. Some juniors were invited to become members of the English and also the National Honor Society. Well established now, socially, athletically, scholastically, we looked forward happily. A cloud marred the sky, though. Betty Clark, a lovely fellow student, passed away. Shocked and saddened, we learned early that we have to lose friends.

In junior year, there was a real boost in our morale and sense of achievement. For the basketball team, this season marked the pinnacle. Centralites shot points upon points, game after game. Opponents were left walloped and weeping. Basket after basket found us screaming until we were hoarse. With the wonderful taste of victory, Mr. Lombardi's BOYS captured the City and State Championships. Scholastically, we were in good shape. We were evaluated and given a good rating by the Middle States Committee. Among the fine examples of performing arts were the Spring Festival, the skits and plays under

1965's History

Mr. Young's direction, the works of art displayed, and the attractive fashion show. Remember those dresses and Easter suits the girls wore (self made in 223)? We learned the satisfaction, too, of money in the bank. Rooms 401 and 415 often won.

A wonderful show of parent interest was the faithful attendance at all games of Dwayne Cressinger's father.

In senior year, we were feeling really proud. We had come a long way; but, now, that diploma did not seem nearly so elusive. A few had to double in subjects, but most of us found we would be able to jump this final hurdle if we really tried. Even the fun lovers seemed to take on a more serious air.

This year, one of our popular classmates and football players met with a very dreadful accident. That awful Saturday a snowstorm caused Michael Mitchell's brother to go into a skid and hit a tree, demolishing the car and causing the loss of Mike's left eye. Fortunately, an East Orange police car was near. The prompt help of the officers plus the weeks of wonderful care at East Orange General Hospital—coupled with Mike's own cooperation—are all responsible for his return to us. Gosh, were we glad to see him! We join Mike in gratitude to them all. Miss Adubato secured lesson plans from the various teachers and relayed them to Michael's grateful mother. The Board of Education supplied home instruction.

How we ever secured all the senior glossy prints for the yearbook neither we nor the Lorstan-Thomas studio will ever know.

The senior prom, held this year in the Robert Treat Hotel was (as a TV commercial would say) "indescribably delicious". The beautiful room with its decorations, the lovely, lingering melodies from the band, the gorgeous lights blended in harmony with the flawless suits and brilliant gowns, as we whirled and whirled around the dance floor. The event is past, but it contributed a large piece of happiness for future days, when we will want to remember the pleasant times of our teens.

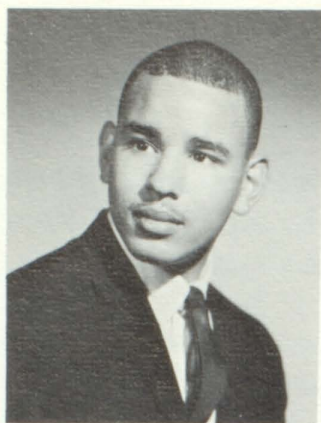

All these incidents of the last four years are behind us, but the memory of them (and, perhaps, a few not recorded here) will cling long after that wonderful June night of 1965's Commencement. To it, we look forward with a real spirit of achievement—yet, with such mixed emotions.

Sporting Administrators — Dr. Recktenwald, Mr. Hampton, and Mr. Angell, at Newark Stadium, well before the fans came for the Central — Barringer game.

Football

Streamers flowing, shaking, blowing in the wind, the gay music of the band ushered in another football season. The many pictures on the following pages bear witness to events: the team as a whole (quite a good-sized whole); the various players, individually photoed; and the numerous types of action that went on in the many games. Aside from the players and the actual performance, there is the entire panoramic effect. The fact that fall arrives seems to say football is in the air. Those who cannot take part on the field do so in other capacities. Lovely sound and sight are contributed by the twirlers and cheerleaders to whom "belonging to the sport" seems to make happy. By their presence, game after game, and by their lusty yells, the spectators both contributed and shared in one of the most vibrant of sports seasons — football.

Coach Brown and Assistant Coach Adams.

The 1964-65 Football Team.

The Swimming Team

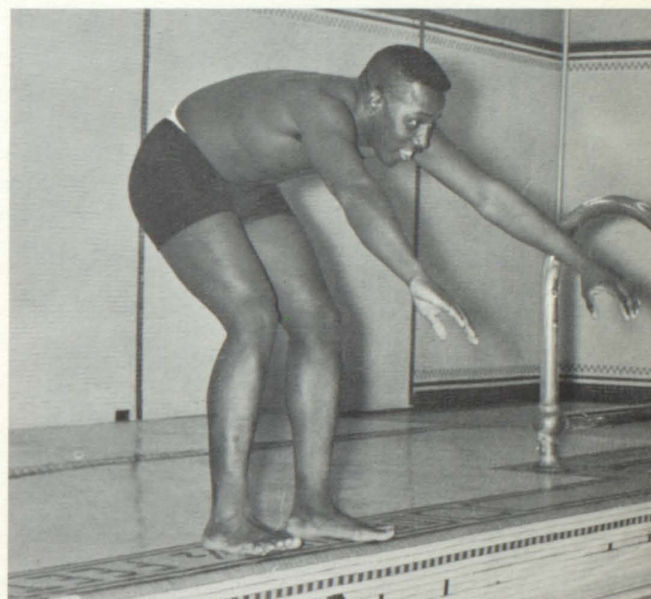

Swimming

The swimming team has been very successful this year in the eyes of the Blue Devils. The team has succeeded in conquering its arch rival, South Side, twice this year, as it has done many times in the years past.

We owe many of our wins to our coach, Mr. Williams, who has done a great deal in improving the team, during the three years he has been in Central.

Swimming is not an easy sport. It takes devotion, endurance, and ability to become a fine swimmer. This means that you have to work hard and practice every day if you expect to achieve this goal.

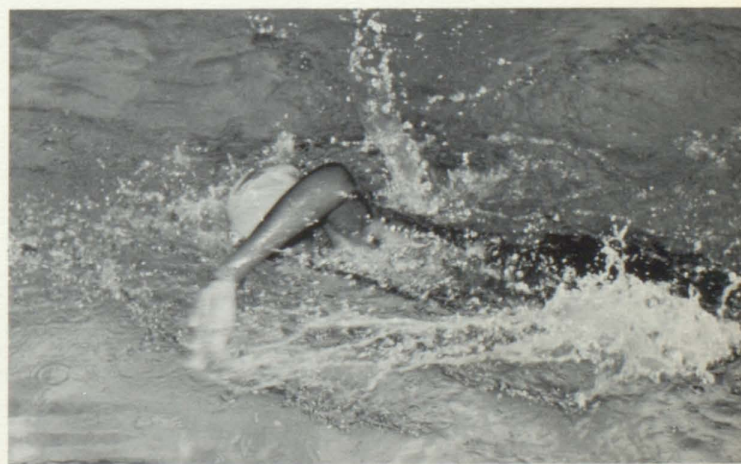

The present team has developed two fine swimmers, Leroy Miller and Elliot Simmons. These boys were this year's co-captains. They have been on the swimming team since they entered Central as freshmen. Ernest Thomas, who is also a senior and a fine swimmer, has made great contributions to the team, during his stay at Central.

Nice and easy.

Willie Simmons takes the lead in a relay race.

George Foster displays free style swimming stroke.

Basketball

A wonderful basketball season finished just short of Atlantic City. The team and the school would have been thrilled to have had it "all the way"; but, we have a lot to be proud of this season. The Co-Captains were mighty pleased with Aikins and Lott at one time; with Hall and Parks at another. Cureton was both a valuable and a happy player. Underclassmen showed fine sports ability and an up and coming strength. Taking a random sampling of four games, this is the type of result:

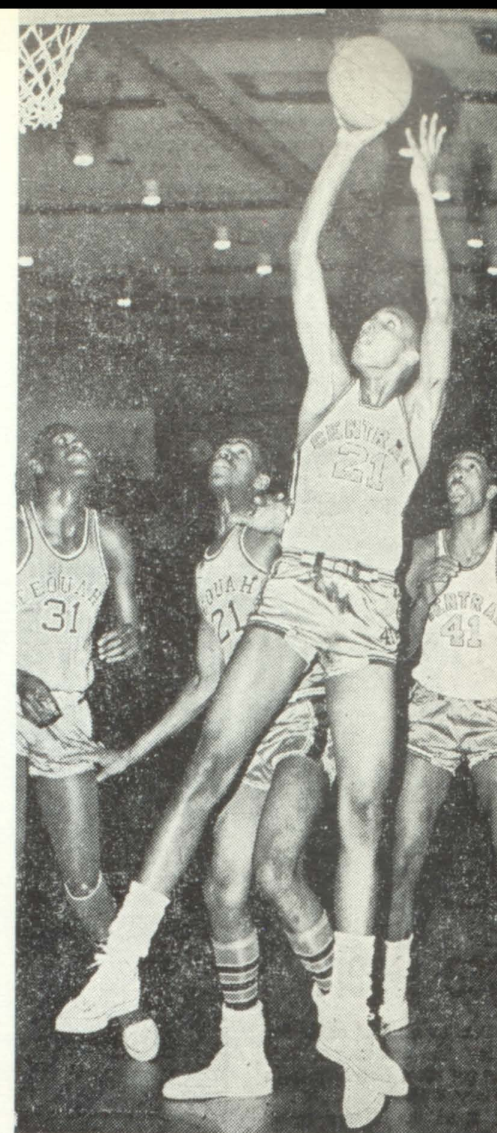

December 23 Seton Hall — Central -- Won
February 9 Central — Irvington --- Won
February 12 Essex Catholic — Central Lost
March 9 Central — West Orange Won

Of this year's boys, three placed on 'All City Team', a very creditable showing: one, on the first team; two, on the others.

The music, the twirlers and cheerleaders, and the screaming spectators all added to the glamor of a happy basketball season for 1964-1965, in which Louis Molina, Dwayne Cressinger, and James Henderson were the able managers.

Don Parks jumps high for Central and for that basket!

Beneath the long arm of Dargon, Finley grabs the ball for a layup.

George Reynolds, a senior of the June 1965 class, placed on both "All City" and "All County", this season. Reynolds stands six feet, four inches tall, and weighs one hundred and ninety-five pounds. Mr. Lombardi, the coach, told reporters that George is the best "all-around player" he ever had. He remarked that he had coached boys who were slightly better in one or two areas, but never anyone who could "do so much with a basketball".

Ronald Lott placed on the second team for All City, while Abe Aikins made the third.

West Orange game — Kay out-jumps Dalton as Reynolds closes in on the play in the first quarter.

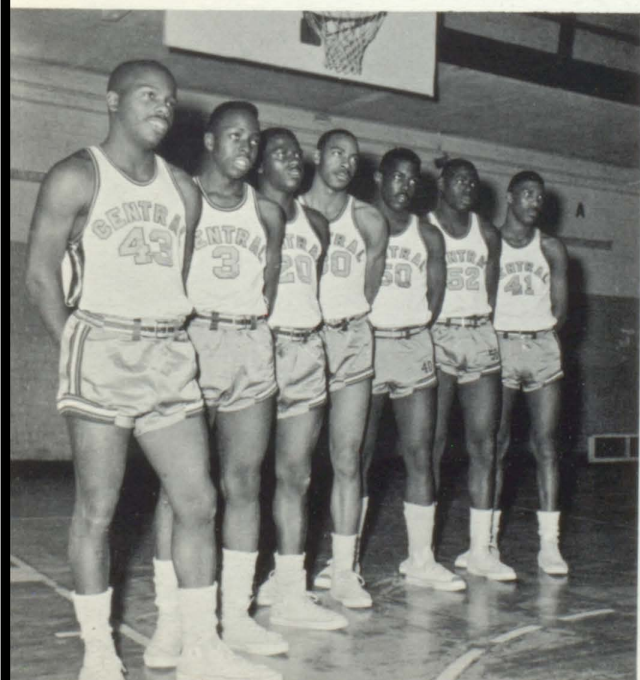

Abe and Ken cover Jackson's every move after he receives the ball from his floored teammate (West-side's McDowel).

Aikens tries to toss as Jasienieck of Bloomfield tries to stop him. (Did you know Abe is a fine student, too?)

Both Central and Immaculate High eye the ball.

The Senior Shooters: George Reynolds (#41) Co-Captain, Abe Aikins (#52), Don Parks (#50), Ron Lott (#20) Co-Captain, Ken Hall (#3), Ron Cureton (#43).

All set to look upward.

The Entire Track Team.

Arts High and Central take the hurdle.

Rodney Mays shows fine form.

Baseball

Strike one!

Felton looks serious here.

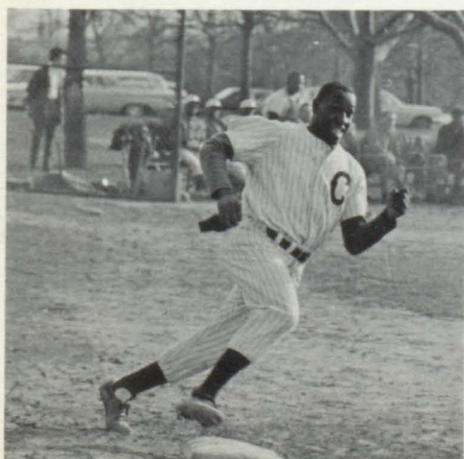

Reynolds takes the throw for the first out.

He'll be comin' round the bases.

Williams prepares for his catching assignment.

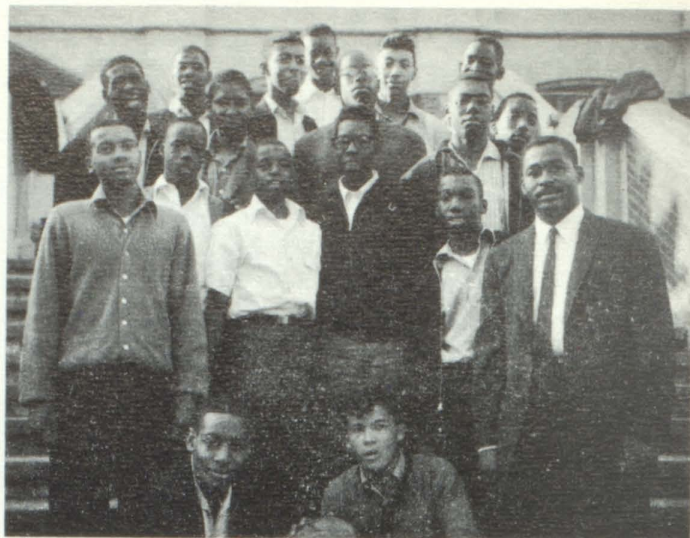

Soccer

The 1965 Soccer season was one in which all the members showed a great deal of improvement. Soccer is a rough game, but they measured up to its rigorous demands. We are justly proud of our two, excellent victories.

Although three boys in our photo are seniors of the 1965 class, the team is made up predominantly of sophomores. This means that Central can look forward hopefully, in the next couple of years, to seasons with more victories in them, as the boys and their skills develop.

The other Soccer Team members are: Davall, Gilbert, Harper, Henry, Ingram, Josey, Maxey, More, Rankin, Ransom, Robinson, Searcy, Watson and Yut.

Coach Smith with the Soccer Team.

Central's first Wrestling Team.

New to the field of Central sports activities is our Wrestling Team. Nevertheless, these boys acted this year as though they were veterans. Each of the team members displayed interest and endurance. This was equally true from the lightest weight, James Davis, to the heavy man, Frank Jennings. Anyone who saw the team members lugging those big, blue mats, in the late afternoon hours, knew they meant business.

The very first match of the season resulted in Central's winning an excellent 49 victory over South Side's 31.

Mr. P. Curry is the coach of the new Wrestling Team. The Captain is Alfred Davall and Ernest Phillips is Co-Captain.

Other mat men include: Louis Jennings, Kenneth Jones, Winton Hill, Donald Rankins, Joe Yut. Also, not to be confused with Winton, there is Winston Hill; and besides Frank, there is Louis Jennings. Believe it or not, the team included a tiny fellow, with lots of nerve, 90 pound Gerald King. Still others are Michael Barrett and Wayne Chapman. Mike provided a highlight of the season by winning the title of City Champion, in his weight class, which is 127. Too bad, graduation in June will remove Barrett from the Central mat. The other two members on our team (and in our picture) are Anthony Jones and Willie Lawson.

Autographs

There's a tree here on High Street
Where the traffic travels by;
And carved upon that tree, you'll see:
"We'll love you 'till we die."

Time may every trace erase—
So words you cannot spy;
But, deep down with the roots, will be
Our love for Central High!
